

SAUSALITO ART FESTIVAL ANNOUNCES 2014 SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

Sausalito, CA June 23, 2014 -- The Sausalito Art Festival Foundation (SAFF) has announced the recipients of its 2014 student scholarships. Seven art students (graduating high school seniors and college students) will receive a total of $28,000 in scholarship funding this year.

The 2014 winners are:

- Samuel Alderson of Novato is attending California College of Art in Oakland in pursuit of a BFA in Painting & Drawing; this is his second scholarship from the SAFF
- Claire Buonocore of Oakland is studying for a BFA in Playwriting at Marymount Manhattan in New York
- Joy Lin of San Rafael is continuing her studies at the University of California, Berkeley where she is working towards a BFA in Teaching Art; this is her second SAFF scholarship award
- Sally Khomikh of San Francisco will be studying Graphic Design at Chapman University in Orange, California
- Marissa Rosenberg-Carlson of San Francisco is headed to Princeton University in New Jersey to study Vocal Music
- Juan Ruiz of Richmond is continuing his studies in Dance at Dominican University; he also received a SAFF scholarship last year
- Kenneth Wang of Berkeley is majoring in Theatre at the University of California, Berkeley

“This is the thirteenth year that the Sausalito Art Festival Foundation has been helping students pursue a career in the arts. We are so pleased to be able to support their educational efforts,” said SAFF Board Member and Scholarship Committee Chair, Ann Arnott.

The SAFF Scholarship Program supports the mission of the Sausalito Art Festival Foundation which is to encourage, promote and support the arts within the community. Funding for the scholarships is provided by proceeds from the Silent Auction. Over $180,000 in scholarships has been gifted in the past 13 years and numerous recipients have gone on to have successful careers in art thanks to this valuable educational support.

The 62st Sausalito Art Festival and Silent Auction are Labor Day Weekend, August 30-September 1. For tickets and more information: www.sausalitoartfestival.org.

###

MEDIA CONTACT:

Cheryl Popp publicist@sausalitoartfestival.org